

MINT01679

Author: Isaac Newton

Source: MINT 15/17/518, National Archives, Kew, Richmond, Surrey, UK

Middx Ss. The Information of Unidentified the Daughter taken upon Oath this 20.th day of Nov.^{er} 1705.

Who saith that she knows S^r Unidentified and his Lady and that she this Deponent togeaher with her Father Unidentified and her mother Unidentified was at S^r Unidentified^s house at Kentish town about two months agoe, and saith that before they did goe to live at Kentish town the said S^r Unidentified did frequently send his Foot boy, to this Deponents fathers house, and some times would come himselfe as did also the lady Unidentified her selfe, and further saith that when her father was at work in one of the Garrots of the said house the Lady would be constantly there, And that S^r Unidentified would be there also when he was about home, and she this Deponent hath seen the Said S^r Richd Blackham & his lady Stirr up the fire in the furnace and hath seen the Lady blow the same, and that the furnace was made of clay after a more peculiar manner than any this Deponent ever saw before, And that it was Sent to the house by S^r Unidentifieds Directions, And further saith that she hath heard the Lady Unidentified say, that the Said furnace had Stood above a week in S^r Unidentifieds Chambers in the Temple before it was brought to Kentish town
Unidentified Capt jurat &ct Unidentified
