

MINT01586

Author: Isaac Newton

Source: MINT 15/17/426, National Archives, Kew, Richmond, Surrey, UK

The Information of Unidentified ^s of the parish of S^t Botolphs Bishop^s gate taken upon oath this 23 day of June anno 1702 (who calles herself wife to the dutch Envoy)

Middx Westm^r } Ss Who saith that Unidentified living in Lutiners Layn in the parish of S^t Gilis^s in the fields hath often told she this Informant, that she the said Unidentified had an art or secret, that she could turn a pound weight of Brass or Copper, into gold, soe that it should be of the intrinsick value of forty pound Sterling, and that she the Said Unidentified did tell unto this Informant that she had taught Unidentified the husband of her this Informant to make the mettall aforesaid and that the Said Unidentified told to this Informant further, that she did design to carry on the said trade of making the mettalls as aforesaid, and she this Informant verily beleives that the said Unidentified is now at work upon the said project in the house of one Unidentified by Tower Royall near Budge Row and further saith that the Said Unidentified told she this Informant that she did design to work on the said mettall in the house of one Unidentified near little moore gate Unidentified capt et jurat cor: me diu et anno supradict: Unidentified
