

Letter concerning the value of the Spanish Riall

Author: Isaac Newton

Source: T 1/136.39, National Archives, Kew, Richmond, Surrey, UK

<152r>

To the Right Honourable the Earl of Oxford & Earl Mortimer Lord High Treasurer of great Britain.

May it please your Lordship

The Spanish piece of money of two Ryalls sent by your Lordships order to the Officers of the Mint to be weighed assayed & valued is in weight $3^{\text{dwt}} 6^{\text{gr}}$, in assay $3\frac{1}{2}^{\text{dwt}}$ worse then standard, & in value ten pence wanting the third part of a farthing. And twelve such pieces are worth $9^{\text{s}} 11^{\text{d}}$.

Crav. Peyton

Is. Newton

[\[1\]](#)

<153v>

Officers {of the} Mint 21 Aug^t 1711 {monetary} value of Spanish Riall.

[1] Mint Office
22 Aug. 1711.