

Application to fix a date for a pyx trial of copper money.

Author: Isaac Newton

Source: MINT 19/2/316, National Archives, Kew, Richmond, Surrey, UK

To the Right Honourable the Lords Commissioners of his Majestys Treasury

May it please your Lordship

The Pix of the copper money made since the last trial thereof, remains to be tried whenever your Lordships please to appoint a day for the trial & a person to see the same & report it to your Lordships. Which is most humbly submitted to your Lordships great wisdom

[1]

Isaac Newton.

[1] Mint Office.
Octob. 4th. 1725
