

Holograph notes on expenditure 1687-8.

Author: Isaac Newton

Source: MINT 19/1/345, National Archives, Kew, Richmond, Surrey, UK

<345r>

That the Queens houses be upheld: That nothing be added altered or done at her Majestys charge in the inside or windows of any dwelling house for the sake of any Tenant or Tenants not belonging to her Majestys Mint or for letting the house to such a tenant. And that workmen who bring in bills with any Articles of the sort to be paid of by her Majesty, be dismissed the service of the Mint.

That the Gunner of the Tower to order the Gunns in such a manner that upon firing they may do least harm to the glass windows of the Mint.

<345v>

M^r Allen

M^r Poree a little below Limehouse Hole. A merchant in London.
